You are free to share any of these far and wide.

There are also some nice toolkits from a variety of our partners, including

- Peer Recovery Center of Excellence (briefly mentions RFW): https://peerrecoverynow.org/documents/RFW\_Toolkit\_2022\_03.pdf

- Employer resource library from our very own Reality Check: resource library — Reality Check (realitychecknow.org)
  - (This is of course not an exhaustive list, but at least a place to get started. CO will also be coming out with a toolkit.)

There is also of course SAMHSA's drug-free workplace toolkit (Drug-Free Workplace Toolkit | SAMHSA). NIOSH also has resources around workplace supported recovery (Workplace Supported Recovery Resources | NIOSH | CDC) and a nice corresponding program called Total Worker Health (Total Worker Health | NIOSH | CDC).

Additionally, RFW has a very large internal database of resources, so if you'd like any more information around those, please just let me know.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Sam

Press Release

DEA's Commitment to Expanding Access to Medication-Assisted Treatment

WASHINGTON – Today, Administrator Anne Milgram announced the Drug Enforcement Administration's continued commitment to expanding access to medication-assisted treatment to help those suffering from substance use disorder.

"In this moment, when the United States is suffering tens of thousands of opioid-related overdose deaths every year, the DEA's top priority is doing everything in our power to save lives," said Administrator Milgram. "Medication-assisted treatment helps those who are fighting to overcome substance use disorder by sustaining recovery and preventing overdoses. At DEA, our goal is simple: we want medication-assisted treatment to be readily and safely available to anyone in the country who needs it."

Recently, DEA, in collaboration with federal, state, and local partners, has been championing a number of initiatives to expand access to medication-assisted treatment for those suffering from opioid-related substance use disorder.

- Beginning in March 2022, practitioners working in hospitals, clinics, and emergency rooms will be able to request an exception allowing them to dispense a three-day supply of medication-assisted treatments, including buprenorphine and methadone, to treat patients experiencing acute opioid withdrawal symptoms.
- DEA, in partnership with the Department of Health and Human Services, is engaging in regular outreach with pharmacists and practitioners to express support for the use of medication-assisted treatment for those suffering from substance use disorder.
- In July 2021, DEA implemented a new regulation increasing the number of mobile methadone treatment facilities in an effort to expand access to treatment in remote and underserved communities.
- In response to the COVID-19 public health emergency, DEA implemented temporary regulations allowing medication-assisted treatment to be prescribed by telemedicine. DEA is working to make those regulations permanent.

DEA is committed to continuing to work with our federal, state, and local partners to find more ways to expand access to medication-assisted treatment. DEA hopes that these efforts will help people across the country gain access to these lifesaving medicines.
